WHAT WE DO

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT?

Anyone who has ever undertaken a renovation project or knows someone who has is excited by the prospect, but it can also be extremely stressful. Between finalising plans, managing tradespeople and finding funds, renovating a home is typically one of the most hectic scenarios in the average homeowners life.

Our process makes home renovations less stressful, our business model is a combination of commercial building practices, processes, technology and systems. It allows skilled builders and tradespeople to focus on their key strengths and saves homeowners time and money. We ensure that homeowners don't have to navigate the fragmented and confusing renovations, we work with clients to discuss their ideas, budget and priorities. Then with our team we make it happen. You don't need to lift a finger.

Our approach to creating beautiful living space puts you at the centre. Before anything else, we must first understand the way you live and your vision for your home. Offering full service residential renovations we are different from most companies. While most builders view renovations as the 'gap filler' between new-builds, our team specialise in renovations, we love this work and its all we do.

All our systems and processes are designed to create the ultimate customer experience. We've perfected the optimal way to run a renovation project. It starts with a thorough design and briefing process, translated into detailed plan and costing followed by a well managed and professional control.

MAKING DREAMS COME TRUE

OUR PROCESS

1. INITIAL BRIEFING

The first step in the process to understand exactly what you want to achieve in your home (including the drive and reasons for carting out the work). We ask questions, you get ideas and inspiration and together to we understand exactly what you want, why and how we will make it happen.

2. DESIGN & FEASIBILITY

The next step is to translate brief into your concept and understand the feasibility of what you would like to build. We will discuss your project to identify constraints, challenges and explore bring solutions to the table to determine the feasibility. At this time , we will provide estimates based on typical costs for such a project.

3. WORKING PLANS & SCOPE OF WORKS

Working drawings based on the concepts are created, your budget decisions will have been made by now. A detailed cost and contract are produced It will take account of the decisions you have made.

The final cost can be refined and any modifications in specification can be accommodated in the design.

4. KICK-OFF

Your project manager will be introduced and a site meeting scheduled. Everyone will be briefed on the agreed time scale along with specific elements you may have brought up.

5. ON-SITE

On start day its advisable you are present. We will always strive to meet your expectations, however, the progress of your project may differ depending on the type of work being carried out. Regular updates of our development will be provided.

6. UNFORESEEN

With extensions, ground works and other large scale building projects there is always an unknown. Good communication will be the key to delivering your dream space. If there should be an unforeseen obstacles, there will be dealt with based on their own merits and only mutually agreed actions will be taken forward.

7. COMPLETION!

The happy day will arrive when your won't see us everyday (well, not until your next project!). The council building inspector (he/she will have been to site previously) will give the final sign off. Any outstanding balances will be due at this time.

INTRODUCTION

BEFORE YOU START

So you are thinking about making some renovations. A great journey is about to begin, but before you start let's teach you the basics so you've got the confidence and courage to hit the ground running.

THE PLANNING STAGE

The planning stage is one of the most crucial parts of starting a new project. It guides the whole project from start to finish, ensuring the final result is even better than you imagined. In this section, we will help you with the following:

1. Collecting Ideas
2. Restrictions
3. Budget Planning
4. Plans, Design & Drawings

OUR TOP TIPS

From years of experience and hundreds of projects completed under our belt, we have created a list of our five top tips when planning a project. Whether your project is big or small, our top tips will help you make the process easier and avoid common mistakes.

BEFORE YOU START

THE PLANNING STAGE

The planning stage is one of the most crucial parts of starting a new project. It guides the whole project from start to finish, ensuring the final result is even better than you imagined.

1. COLLECTING IDEAS

Ask yourself what the project must have and like to have, this will help you manage your ideas against your budget. This will also help you get a Ballpark figure for the cost of your renovation.

Start to collect your ideas together. What is the main reason behind the project? Is it adding more space, preparing to sell or making a house into your forever home? This will determine your budget and time scale.

Now the creative element, look for colours, textures, how you will use the space.... Research through Pinterest and house magazines. This will help your design and align your project manager with your personal vision and preferences.

2. RESTRICTIONS

Getting the right design is important but you should also understand the local planning requirements and restrictions. This is a critical stage and our team of professional will be able to help you with this.

Take a look at the local history of homes within the area this may give you an indication to any pitfalls.

3. BUDGET PLANNING

Your brief will save you a lot of time when getting various quotes as you will already have an idea of your Ballpark Budget. Expecting a builder to come back with his best price is a recipe for disaster as his best price may not match your brief. Be straightforward with them, and share your ballpark budget as soon as possible. They will then be able to tell you early on if they can do it and if it is work they are interested in.

Make sure to allow for a 10% contingency budget minimum as with all renovations there are often unseen problems. Also, be aware of changing your mind mid-project - we always accommodate client's minor changes, but major ones can be costly.

Make sure you have the finance in place for your project before the start. If it's a large-sized project, we can work with you and do the work in more than one phase if the project lends itself to this.

4. PLANS, DESIGN & DRAWINGS

The design and concept document will allow you to understand and decide what you want from your home renovation as well as having an accurate estimate of the cost. If you need a detailed quote, working drawings will most likely be needed.

Planning permission and building regulations are separate and required by the council. It's critical that in the early stage, we have clarity of what the council requires. Planning permission isn't always required but building regulations usually are on most substantial renovations.

BEFORE YOU START

OUR 5 TOP TIPS

The planning stage is one of the most crucial parts of starting a new project. It guides the whole project from start to finish, ensuring the final result is even better than you imagined.

1. RESEARCH, RESEARCH & RESEARCH

Time spent researching what you want, what it will cost and how you can get it, is seldom wasted. Take as much time planning for your renovation project as needed.

There's so much choice that making decisions can seem overwhelming. Speaking with our experts who have industry knowledge will give you clarity and confidence in the choices you make.

2. BUDGET CONSIDERATIONS

Does your budget reflect the extent of renovation work needed? Consider doing the renovation in a number of phases, each phase being prioritised on what is required immediately. Is an extra bedroom an urgent requirement, or can this wait so you can focus on the main living areas of the house? Figuring out your requirements and what you can't live without will help shape your decision. If your budget is very tight, consider elements that can be reused or easily changed further down the line.

Agree on stage payments for work and make sure you keep 10% of the final cost back until the work is finished to your satisfaction.

3. ONLINE PLANNING PERMISSION

Many people are not aware of the online planning permission platform available with most local councils. You can search the local area and view planning applications for neighbouring properties to gauge a better idea of what has been granted or refused permission in the past.

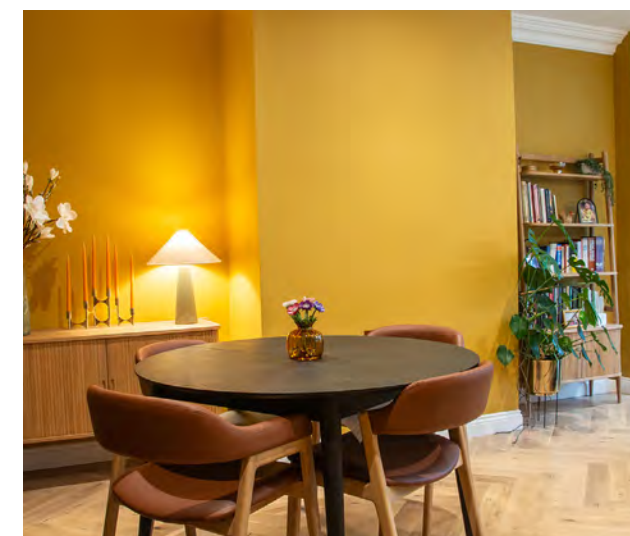

4. BE A GOOD NEIGHBOUR

Before submitting a planning application, we recommend meeting your neighbours to take them through the proposal. We are happy to accompany you to help answer any questions and introduce ourselves should they have any issues during the project.

Your neighbours will appreciate you taking the time to fill them in before they read about in the paper.

5. THINK ABOUT THE DETAILS

A lot of previous clients choosing to renovate/extend have a panic moment towards the end of the build when they have concentrated solely on the main elements without any real thought to interior finishes. At this stage, think about previous experiences and places home and away that stand out in your mind.

STYLE GUIDE

TRADITIONAL KITCHENS

When designing traditional kitchens, the array of choices is vast, ranging from timeless classic oaks to exquisite hand-painted finishes. Would you prefer a shaker-style kitchen or an in-frame, or what about a tongue-in-groove centre panel? Each option presents a unique aesthetic, allowing you to tailor your kitchen space to reflect your personal style and preferences.

Here at Bray Interiors, we can create inspired traditional kitchen designs that capture the timeless beauty of older styles whilst still providing the benefits of modern living.

CLASSIC KITCHENS

Inspired by the traditional shaker furniture craftsmen, the shaker movement valued open-plan living space that was clutter-free and simple. Your classic kitchen design upholds these principles with simple panels and clean lines.

The classic design will stand the test of time, remaining fashionable in your home for years to come. Additionally, it can be easily repainted if you choose to update your room with a change of colour in the future, without changing the cabinets.

KITCHEN RENOVATIONS

STYLE GUIDE

CONTEMPORARY KITCHENS

Today's contemporary kitchens are so much more than just a kitchen. They are a living space, a key room in your home. In this space, you can entertain, socialise, have family time and more.

With the contemporary style, you will have the freedom to make this space whatever you want it to be. There are a lot of customisation options and add-ons so you will be able to create your dream kitchen. During the design stage, we will plan and make changes to suit your needs and wants, making sure that the end result is perfect.

GERMAN/HANDLELESS KITCHENS

True handleless kitchens are synonyms with German minimalist kitchen design, functionality and aesthetics. Concealed hinges and flat door front handles all cater for the minimalist connoisseurs.

With handleless kitchens, there's a huge choice of worktops in metal, wood, concrete, and granite along with handles to customise and create something unique for you. The handle channels are ergonomically designed, emphasising the visual lines both vertically and horizontally creating that bold linear look.

STYLE GUIDE

TRADITIONAL BEDROOM

Selecting between traditional styling options - with detailed doors or a shaker-painted finish - can be a difficult choice. With all the options available with both options many people get overwhelmed. We are here to help you with these decisions and make your ideas and dreams come true.

The hardest choice to make is finishes, with the traditional style finishes a plenty starting with inviting wooden finishes to calming and relaxing pastel colours.

CLASSIC BEDROOM

Classic bedroom styling offers a beautiful design with a clean modern style. This style has become popular with new house builds and brings any home into the 21st century. With sliding or opening doors, and gloss, mirrored or textured wooden finishes the possibilities are endless.

Whatever your needs, we have many choices and will work with our clients to find the perfect solution to any and all of your needs.

CONTEMPORARY BEDROOM

Inspired by the mid-century 1950s/1960s modern-era art movement, our contemporary bedrooms will bring a touch of style to home with their bold colours and sleek lines.

This style has a lot of options for customisation: bespoke fitted wardrobes including rail, shoe, pigeon-hole and other storage solutions, luxury dressing rooms or bespoke vanity tables are only a few of the options available.

We spend over a third of our lives in a bedroom so creating the calm, comfortable, personal, safe space you need is the most important factor for us. You can have it the way you want whether be practical or spacious, all details will be explained to you thoroughly by our team of designers giving you the final choice on such a special room.

HOW TO ADD VALUE TO YOUR HOME

CELLARS & GARAGES CONVERSIONS

Do you need more space for a growing family? Do you want to add real value to your home? Extending your home is a great solution. Whether you are adding an extra bedroom, converting a loft space or creating an large extension you can count on us to help organise your project.

The two main areas people convert are basements/cellars and garages. You can create fantastic spaces underneath your home. Extending your house means you can stay in it for longer especially when your family is expanding, and also sell it quicker when the time comes.

Converting your cellar or garage into a living space is one of the most cost-effective ways to add both extra space and increase the square footage of your home. A well-thought-out conversion can add as much as 20% to the value of your home so getting it right is very valuable - especially if you are planning on renovating and selling.

BEDROOM & BATHROOM RENOVATION

LARGER & LUXURIOUS

BEDROOM

Mrs Harper wanted a larger, more luxurious bedroom that offered views into her garden and the surrounding area. Our brief was to take the two pre-existing small bedrooms and knock through to create one larger space.

For the bedroom, our client decided on a deep Lichen solid ash hand-painted finish for the fitted furniture. We installed wall-to-wall storage and open shelving with lighting for display pieces.

The most important piece of furniture was the dressing table area. Our installer hand-made the whole of this area to our designs and specifications. Drawers were created for make-up and jewellery as well as several open shelf areas for displays running down either side. Mirrors were fitted on three sides with our lighting and side LED lighting to keep the area bright enough for applying make-up.

Our client has since added her luxurious touches to the room and loves sitting in her love chair overlooking the garden.

BATHROOM

The second stage of the project was renovating the bathroom. The brief was simple: rip everything out and start again. The client wanted to have a traditional bathroom with modern yet natural colours. They also wanted it to be practical and easy to maintain.

As you can see, the client added their own touches to bring the room to life - making it the perfect place to take a relaxing bath at the end of the long week.

LARGER & LUXURIOUS

THE PROCESS

We started by discussing with the client what they wanted: it became clear that they were looking for more than one room renovation - extra building work was also required.

Once we had a clear idea of our client's needs and wishes, we started working on plans and 3D digital models - these are then used in the next meeting to discuss the finer details and make sure all other structural plans are correct before starting the renovation.

BEDROOM

We removed the internal wall between the two small bedrooms and blocked up one of the internal doors. This created an open and airy space - ready for renovation. Next, we removed one of the windows looking over the garden and insert French doors with a Juliette balcony.

This brought more light into the room and made it more open to the outside world. New lighting above the bed was fitted, cornices added and a solid oak skirting board was installed to finish off the walls and match everything together in the look the client was looking for.

BATHROOM

For the bathroom renovations, we started by removing the existing airing cupboard and rebuilt it in our Shaker Grey Mist doors, which complimented the rest of the furniture installed.

We then installed a low double console unit for the sit-on sink. A grey marble quartz surface was added on top adding a traditional yet luxurious look to this area.

Niches were key, offering an ideal area for shower gels and shampoos within the walk-in shower area. An extra illuminated niche area offers space for candles when soaking in the luxurious free-standing bath.

The floor tiles look very elegant from Laura Ashley and work well with the metro grey bricks and top white Listello border. A room designed for relaxation, we look forward to working with this client again soon.

The Bray Team were fantastic. They helped us design exactly what we needed, provided professional advice, delivered on time, to budget and they were also very clean and tidy.

Bray Interiors will be asked to undertake all our future building and alteration work.

- Mrs Harper

KITCHEN RENOVATION

IN NEED OF A REFRESH

KITCHEN

Realising the potential of the transformation of the client's 1970s residence was at the top of the agenda for this project. The house had been practically untouched for several years. The clients bought the house as it was in the perfect spot for them and had a lovely garden.

The brief was to look at designing a new kitchen as the current kitchen was very small and dated with an old-styled pantry taking up a large proportion of the space.

The client highlighted that ideally, the whole kitchen and dining room space would become one large social space. We aimed to create a streamlined, functional kitchen with great looks, and ambient and natural light that the whole family would enjoy.

BATHROOM

After the first project, the client was so pleased that four months later we were asked to return to the house to redesign the bathroom and add a storage solution to the hallway.

These projects really brought it all together, solidifying the house as a perfect home for the clients and making it more appropriate for their daily usage.

The brief for these projects was the same as the kitchen, just in a different room. The idea was to create a functional, practical space with room to grow later. They wanted the rooms to be well-designed and become a sanctuary to relax.

IN NEED OF A REFRESH

THE PROCESS

For the main project, the client wanted a streamlined, functional kitchen with great looks, and ambient and natural light that the whole family would enjoy.

BEDROOM

First, we removed several walls to open up the room and let extra light through. Inset lighting was then added to the kitchen area to give a nice bright light alternative when cooking. New radiators were installed so the new open-plan room had plenty of warmth.

Our clients opted for a streamlined kitchen in Dakar with flush line handles mounted on the top of the doors. They chose a laminate grey wood effect for the worktops which gave a contemporary feel to the room. Opening the space allowed for a central island unit with a large amount of storage to maintain a clutter-free living space. We incorporated the hob into the island, creating a social cooking area.

The potential the clients saw in this old and tired home has been realised and they now have a social space in which to relax and cook. In summer, they can open the doors to the garden to create a real party room that aligns with the family's personality.

BATHROOM

After the first project, the client was so pleased that we were asked to return to the house to redesign the bathroom and add a storage solution to the hallway. As the brief was very similar to the previous project, we knew what the client was looking for. The designs and styling were easy to choose making the process quick and simple.

We added lots of storage in this bathroom - making storage issues a thing of the past. We did this by inserting the sink into a floating storage unit, bringing a modern look and making the room look bigger by exposing the floor all the way up to the wall.

We did the same with the other storage unit, lifting it off the floor to make the room seem bigger. We complimented the tall storage unit by adding a tall tower rail next to it, perfectly situated for use with the walk-in shower.

From start to finish, Bray Interiors have provided excellent service. The designer, the installers and the project manager have all worked very hard and nothing has been too much trouble. The fittings are to a high standard and I am extremely happy with the finished results.

BASEMENT RENOVATION

21ST CENTURY CONVERSION

THE BRIEF

The owners of this lovely character home in Huddersfield were interested in renovating and converting their cellar. After discussing their ideas, they wanted to update multiple areas of their home, at once.

The cellar was an unused space that was the full depth and width of the house. This was an opportunity to create an office, a luxurious bathroom and a large bedroom and still have all the space the cellar provided by cleverly relocating and redesigning the storage. However, we had to keep in mind the ceiling height to create a usable living area.

After developing a thorough understanding of our client's requirements, we converted the client's ideas into a design. We then presented our clients with the design, ensuring it met their budget, time requirements and taste. With their signed approval, our team began working on the property - ensuring all necessary consents were taken care of and approved.

THE PROCESS

The team got to work removing tons of dirt to create the ceiling height and headroom required, making sure to damp proof the area and creating an emergency fire exit as per the building regulations requirements. The alterations over the last 120 years to the electrical and plumbing systems were challenges that were overcome thanks to our expertise.

The clients were hands-on people and they undertook the huge task of renovating the intricate oak staircase, painstakingly rubbing it down ready for French Polishing. Their handwork and style are there for everyone to see. They now have the dream home they set out to achieve, a long way from the dilapidated house of an old pub and restaurant.

The client and our team worked closely to achieve a beautiful contemporary aesthetic that would suit the property.

BEFORE

The team were very professional from start to completion, they worked along side us and minimised any disruption, The finished result was so much better than we had ever hoped to achieve. It was a challenging project, extremely well executed.
